

Rathkeale School Registers

Extracts from the registers of Rathkeale National Schools Number 2 and Number 3.

INTRODUCTION

Over half of the pupils of these two schools had names that are readily recognised as having Irish Palatine origin, whilst many more bear the names of families who inter-married with their Irish Palatine neighbours.

This transcript was compiled originally by Janice and Ken McDonald in 2000 and 2001 with the help of No 2 School, the Irish Palatine Association, and Adare & Ballingrane Methodist Circuit who made the records available.

In 2001, just four copies of the compilation were printed. They were deposited with Rathkeale No 2 National School, the Irish Palatine Association, Adare & Ballingrane Methodist Circuit, and Janice & Ken McDonald.

This expanded 2025 edition was produced by Janice and Ken for the Irish Palatine Association and the Irish Palatine Special Interest Group of The Ontario Genealogical Society with the wish that each organisation would make it available online.

The 2001 edition included pupil registrations up to 1910 with a supplement that was not to be made publicly available comprising registrations from 1911 to 2000.

This 2025 edition includes pupil registrations up to the year 1930. More recent registrations have been omitted to preserve the privacy of these people who may still be living.

This edition includes the following sections:

- 1: This Introduction including brief histories of each school.
- 2: Combined listing of registrations at the two schools from 1873 to 1930 in Alphabetical sequence.
- 3: Transcription of the register of Number 2 School in date order, 1873 to 1930.
- 4: Transcription of the register of Number 3 School in date order, 1886 to 1906.

Rathkeale School Registers

Number 2 School

Since 1873, the majority of children from Irish Palatine families in Rathkeale have attended Rathkeale No 2 National School. The School stands on the main street, next to the Church of Ireland. It is now called Church Street NS. The first photo was taken around 2000 AD before the school was expanded and modernised. The second image shows how it looks in 2025.

Every new pupil is recorded in the School Register. There are two large bound books, one for girls and one for boys. These two books were started in 1873 and were used for nearly 150 years before being replaced in recent times. The two registers were showing signs of their age when they were transcribed in 2001.

The school caters generally for pupils between the ages of 4 and 12, although until 1917 younger entrants into the Infants School were also noted in the Register. The school is small and for many years it had fewer than twenty pupils, occupying just one classroom. In 2001 the numbers were sufficient to justify a second teacher and the use of a second classroom. The early years of the Register suggest that numbers may once have been much greater.

Between 1873 and 2000, the names of over 800 pupils were entered into the Register. Some names appear twice, recorded when they entered the Infants and later when they started at the main school.

The number of entries in each register up to the year 2000 is as follows: Boys 428, Boys Infants 99, Girls 384, Girls Infants 103 - a total of 1,014 entries over a period spanning around five generations.

The transcription up to 1930 includes a total of 638 entries.

Rathkeale School Registers

Number 3 School

This, the Methodist school, existed for just 20 years, from 1886 to 1906. It was located in the grounds of the former Methodist Church and manse, on the main road, almost opposite the entrance to Rathkeale House Hotel.

Until the Methodist Church closed in 1968, the old school building was used for social functions and children's parties. After the church building was demolished the remaining property was bought by a doctor.

This school's Register contains the names of around 160 pupils. Some names occur more than once; it appears that pupils were re-registered on return after an extended period of absence. Pupils were registered when they entered the Infants and later when they started at the main school. The number of entries in each register is as follows: Boys 82, Boys Infants 46, Girls 87, Girls Infants 41 - a total of 256 entries.

Religious denominations

Within the school registers, the religious denomination of each pupil was recorded in abbreviated format. They have the following meanings:

E.C. = Church of England

I.C. = Church of Ireland

Meth = Methodist

Pres = Presbyterian

R.C = Roman Catholic

Wes = Wesleyan Methodist

W.M. = Wesleyan Methodist
